Dr Siu Wai Lok

Dear Graduates,

As you stand on the threshold of a new chapter, you may feel excitement, hope, and perhaps a little uncertainty about what lies ahead. The future is full of unknowns, but one thing is certain: your well-being matters just as much as your success. Today, I want to share some science-backed strategies -- inspired by Dr. Laurie Santos, a Yale psychology professor -- to help you cultivate happiness and resilience no matter where life takes you.

1. Prioritize Social Connections : The people around you -- friends, family, mentors -- are your greatest support system. Strong relationships are one of the strongest predictors of long-term happiness. Make time for the people who lift you up, and don't be afraid to lean on them when you need to.
2. Practice Gratitude : In a world that often focuses on what's next, take moments to appreciate what you have. Whether it's writing down three things you're thankful for or simply pausing to acknowledge the good around you, gratitude can shift your perspective and boost your well-being.
3. Get Enough Sleep : Late-night study sessions may feel necessary, but your brain and body thrive on rest. Prioritize sleep -- it's not laziness, it's essential for mental clarity, emotional balance, and overall health.
4. Eat a Healthy Diet : What you feed your body affects your mind, too. Nourish yourself with foods that fuel both your energy and your mood. Small, mindful choices can make a big difference in how you feel every day.
5. Help Others : Happiness isn't just about personal achievement -- it's also about connection and contribution. Acts of kindness, big or small, create a sense of purpose and fulfillment.
6. Do Less : In a world that glorifies busyness, remember: you don't have to do it all. Burnout isn't a badge of honor. Give yourself permission to slow down, say no when needed, and focus on what truly matters.

Dr. Santos reminds us that happiness isn't passive -- it takes effort and intentional habits. But the good news? Small, consistent actions can lead to lasting joy.

Class of 2025, as you step forward, remember: success isn't just about reaching goals; it's about enjoying the journey, nurturing your well-being, and staying connected to what -- and who -- makes life meaningful.

Congratulations -- and here's to a future filled with happiness, purpose, and endless possibilities!

May GOD bless you and guide you to the path of success in both lives, Ameen.

Principal's Message

Strive for Excellence

Zareenah Ho

To Our Beloved Graduates,

Assalamu Alaikum Warahmatullahi Wabarakatuh. May peace and blessings be upon you.

Congratulations on reaching this remarkable milestone which marks the end of one journey and the beginning of another. As you step forward into a new and exciting chapter of your life, take a moment to reflect on how far you've come. Over these six years, you have grown -- not just in knowledge, but in character, faith, and resilience, and I am confident that the lessons you have learned will guide you for the rest of your life.

Let me reaffirm the theme that has defined your graduating year, which we hope will echo in your hearts:

"Courtesy and Responsibility, we embrace; With Resilience and Maturity, we rise."

These words are more than just a motto -- they are a blueprint for life. Courtesy softens hearts, Responsibility builds trust, Resilience strengthens your spirit, and Maturity guides your choices. Indeed, these values, deeply rooted in the teachings of the Quran and Sunnah, will be your anchors in your life.

Allah (SWT) commands us: "Read in the Name of your Lord" (Quran 96:1), reminding us that learning is a lifelong journey. Yet, knowledge alone is not enough. The Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) taught that "The best among you are those with the best character." As you move forward, let your actions reflect both wisdom and kindness, for true success lies in balancing the two.

Dear Graduates, Life is full of ups and downs. Some of you already have clear dreams; others will discover them along the way. That's perfectly fine. Stay open to new opportunities. Build good habits -- punctuality, honesty, perseverance -- for they are the small steps that lead to great achievements.

My sweeties, remember that IKTMC will always be your home. The friendships you've made, the lessons you've learned, and the memories you've created will stay with you forever. And so will we. Wherever life takes you, know that your teachers, your school, and your IKTMC family are here to support you.

Take a moment today to thank those who helped shape your story -- your parents, teachers, and friends. Gratitude is the sign of a noble heart.

May Allah (SWT) bless your future with success, guide you through challenges, and keep you steadfast in faith. Walk forward with confidence, for you carry the light of knowledge and the strength of your upbringing.

With boundless love and prayers for all of you,

Zareenah

Since coming to this school, Now I know the meaning of hard work. Before, I thought of working hard means you need to enjoy what you like, but now I understand that hard work means doing something you might not like or enjoy and sacrificing what you like in order to get something you desire. And that pushing yourself to your limit is not that hard when you keep saying "just one more step" and before you know it you already there. It's just like opening, closing your eyes. Thanks for guiding us.

▶ DAWOOD IMAMA

I am honoured to be with you for six years in IKTCM. This year many of you grow a lot when the up-coming public exams force you to think about your future. It is fine whether or not you achieve all you wish for, but bear one thing in mind, very few people will leave long time regretting for paying effort, but many more will regret for NOT paying effort instead. Just try your best to leave a complete fullstop to your secondary school life, and I wish to see you all coming back as IKTCM alumni.

► HO WAI KI

My BAFS's sons and daughters, it is always my pleasure to teach you in these three years. I purely enjoy every single lesson with you. I am sure I am going to miss you all. Remember your education was a marathon, not a sprint. Now, it's time for the victory lap.

Those memories will always hold a special place in my heart!

As you step into this new chapter, remember: the world is your playground! Embrace every opportunity, chase your dreams, and sprinkle a little joy and laughter along the way. *I can almost see it
That dream I'm dreaming, but
There's a voice inside my head saying
"You'll never reach it"
Every step I'm taking
Every move I make feels lost with no direction
My faith is shaken*

*But I, I gotta keep trying
Gotta keep my head held high*

*There's always gonna be another mountain
I'm always gonna wanna make it move
Always gonna be an uphill battle
Sometimes I'm gonna have to lose
Ain't about how fast I get there
Ain't about what's waiting on the other side
It's the climb*

*The struggles I'm facing
The chances I'm taking
Sometimes might knock me down, but
No, I'm not breaking
I may not know it
But these are the moments that
I'm gonna remember most, yeah
Just gotta keep going*
